

A story of people, place and progress

Johnson's

Australian grown stockfeed

For 100 years we have been manufacturing, marketing and exporting quality Australian stockfeed.

our history, our present and our future is rooted in the prime agricultural lands of Kapunda, South Australia and Horsham, Victoria. the clean soils and predictable rainfalls allow our valued growers to produce safe and dependable stockfeed. We then deliver a range of hay, straw and pelletised products to customers all over the world.

But our relationship with these places isn't just about what we do, it's about who we are at Johnson's. As a fourth generation family owned business we have grown because we value community and the fantastic team of people who wear the Johnson's shirt with pride.

When we talk about family, we don't just mean the team who have Johnson in their name. to us family is our community, the people on our team, our growers, the towns we are lucky to call home, and our customers all over the world. our door is always open, there's always time for a chat, a cold drink on offer and a BBQ ready to go.

throughout our long history we have continually grown, producing more stockfeed, as well as innovating the products on offer, and delivering them with our trademark friendly, easy and fuss-free style. It's the way we do things at Johnson's.

These words we say

Key messaging

Made from Australian soils

our products are sourced from the clean, rich fertile soils of Southern Australia. our farmers pride themselves on growing sustainable crops to make the very best feed for our customers.

Generational generosity

Maybe it comes from being part of a small country town for four generations, but relationships and honesty are absolutely everything to us. yep, we make great stockfeed products and do business on a global scale with the processes and systems you'd expect, but it's done in the spirit of friendship, preferably over a meal and a bottle of wine.

Appetite for innovation

With history comes perspective. nothing ever stays the same and change is the only constant. our business is successful because we embrace change and are continually making improvements, wether it be on the farm, in our processing facilities or when the stockfeed arrives at its destination. We love and welcome a challenge.
